

Recommended Summer Activities

Rising Kindergarten

We hope you have a summer full of discovery, play, and spending quality time with your family. Below are some fun activities for your child to enjoy. While these activities seem like play to them, they will also build skills that will help them enter Kindergarten as confident learners. The Kindergarten teachers are looking forward to an exciting year of learning and exploring together. Have a GREAT summer!

Reading

One of the most rewarding and important gifts you can give your child is the love of reading. By doing this, you will open doors to a world of information and knowledge. It is our hope that you will enjoy reading with your child this summer. Please use the provided Reading Log to record the books you read together.

Math

Numbers are all around us and opportunities for building foundational math skills are at your fingertips! Along with basic number knowledge and recognition, your child has begun to recognize patterns and problem solve. Let him/her participate in a variety of real-world math experiences this summer!

Chattanooga

Public

Library

The Public Library is continuing to provide curbside service and can process a new library card online or through email. Families simply go to the website chattlibrary.org and select “Get a Library Card” from the top right hand corner. Follow the instructions and library staff will assist you in your application process through email.

There are many benefits for a student having a public library card.

- There is unlimited free access to audiobooks through the library’s digital collection: Hoopla, OverDrive, and RB Digital. Students may wish to use these audiobooks during the summer or within the classroom during the school year. The benefits of audiobooks include improvement in pronunciation and fluency, critical listening skills, focus and attention span, memory, critical thinking and comprehension skills.
- The Chattanooga Public Library has a vast collection of eBooks, fiction and nonfiction, for check out, as well as a News Stand for fans of magazines, newspapers, maps and atlases. The library’s research section includes a student favorite: the World Book Encyclopedia.

While on the library’s website, don’t forget to view the “events” section for a special compilation of resources organized for students. Below are a few resources students might enjoy during the summer.

Storyline Online

Streaming videos featuring celebrated actors reading children’s books alongside illustrations.

Storytime from Space
